

A Writer's Prayer

BASED ON PHILIPPIANS 4:8

Finally, wordsmiths, whatever is true

(words are a release for us. If others find comfort, an extra blessing. Embrace the gift of expression)

whatever is honorable

(May I maintain humility)

whatever is fair

(I don't deserve anything. All is grace and your timing)

whatever is pure

(Let me not covet other's success)

whatever is acceptable

(I will wait your command and move when I see a clear path)

whatever is commendable

(Be a light to others)

whatever is praiseworthy

(Regardless of "success", YOU love me just as I am. I am made in your image...creative. That is enough)

Keep thinking about these things
