

A glass globe is mounted on a black, ornate metal stand. The globe's surface is highly reflective, showing a clear reflection of a landscape with a blue sky, white clouds, and green foliage. The background of the entire image is a soft-focus photograph of green leaves and white flowers, likely irises.

It is important to embrace the beauty of
an imperfect life,
however, sometimes that means we need to step back and stop trying so hard. To do anything extraordinary.

Instead, to just be.